SCOTTISH LEGAL AID BOARD MEMORANDUM

TAXATION - DUMBARTON SHERIFF COURT - 4 DECEMBER 2001

I return your papers herewith. The taxation took place on 4 December 2001 with the Auditor finding that a peremptory diet fell within the class of hearing in paragraph 8. He said that, in the past he had allowed this in judicial taxations prior to the creation of paragraph 14A, which specifically provides for peremptory diets. The issue had been raised and discussed by the Council of Sheriff Court Auditors as well. However, he was not prepared to allow a full second preparation fee, but instead abated the block fee by £50, allowing £12.80 for preparation. In total, £61.60 was taxed off.

then got into a bit of a muddle about expenses or supplementary accounts, and ultimately this resolved itself by him saying that he would be lodging a supplementary account for the work in connection with the taxation.

Following this outcome, I have little belief that I could successfully persuade other auditors to the contrary, nor do I see much prospect of a successful note of objections. In the circumstances, I see little option but to pay for peremptory diets under debate block fees. In the meantime, I am writing to to alert him to the difficulties.

Dear Mr Bayne

CI/8027306/98 TAXATION – DUMBARTON SHERIFF COURT – 4 DECEMBER 2001

I refer to the above matter which has been passed to me for my attention.

I have to say I am really rather surprised this matter is proceeding to taxation at all, and that either you or the nominated solicitor is putting us to the considerable bother and expense of a trip to Dumbarton. The position is quite simple. There is simply no fee for a peremptory diet in the legal aid block-table of fees, and there never has been. If the work cannot be subsumed within any other appropriate block of work as prescribed within the table of fees, neither the Board nor an Auditor can invent a fee.

A peremptory diet is not a debate, nor is it any form of legal argument. The fee in paragraph 8 of the block table is clearly headed up "debate" (other than on evidence). The fee is for preparation for the debate and for conduct of debate. Since a peremptory diet is not a debate, this fee is simply inapplicable. It was clearly inapplicable on a judicial basis, given that a special fee had to be created in 1999 to accommodate peremptory diets in the judicial table of fees. The fact that there has been no similar amendment to the legal aid table cannot be used to pretend that a similar fee can somehow be read into the existing table of fees. This is not a matter which can be cured by taxation, but will require an amendment to the fee table. That is not within the hands of the Board, and any ultra vires decision of an Auditor allowing such a fee will be immediately reported to the Scottish Executive. Rather than going to the expense and time of this taxation, you might well wish to consider whether efforts could be better spent raising the inconsistencies between the judicial and legal aid table with the Scottish Executive. As you will be aware, the Board can only pay fees and outlays out of the Fund which have been properly incurred in terms of the Act and Regulations. Since there is no fee for this work, any purported decision by an Auditor allowing such a fee would be null and have no effect, as the Board cannot make an illegal payment from the Fund.

Perhaps..../

Perhaps you would let me know if you still insist on proceeding to taxation in this matter.

Yours sincerely

for hearing parties on the account.

I acknowledge receipt of the fee of £12.00 for lodging your account of expenses and, in response to your request, I have assigned within the Sheriff Court House, Church Street, Dumbarton, as the date, time and place

There will be a further fee of  $\le > 2 - 0$  for taxation of the account, payable at the diet of taxation. When drawing your cheque for that sum, please make it payable to N R Weir.

Intimation should be given not less than 7 days before the diet of taxation and wherever possible should be given to the party's Solicitor otherwise it should be directed to the party litigant at the last address disclosed by him/her in the pleadings, unless a different address can be justified. When intimation is made to an alternative address, it might be prudent to supplement this with intimation to the original address.

Dear Sirs

I refer to the above matter and to our recent telephone conversation and now write to advise that a diet of taxation has been fixed within Dumbarton Sheriff Court for Tuesday 4th December 2011 at 2.15pm. I enclose a copy of the Auditor's note of intimation for your attention.

I understand that you will now pass this on to your Legal Services Department who will deal with this.

Obviously as already discussed I am more than happy to speak with them on this to try and avoid the cost and inconvenience of the taxation actually taking place.

Yours faithfully

Thank you for your letter dated 5 October 2001.

This issue has been raised with one of our staff solicitors who is of the view we cannot make payment of a fee that does not exist in the legal aid block table of fees. I am therefore unable to authorise payment of the fees claimed for the peremptory diets.

I trust this clarifies our position.

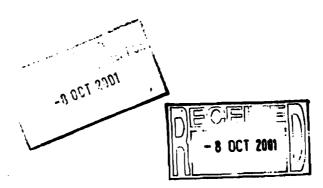

Yours sincerely

Dear Sirs

I refer to the above matter and to your letter of 21th September in which you requested copies of the court interlocutors for the peremptory hearings. These are now enclosed together with a copy of the interlocutor of 19th February fixing the hearing. I trust that this will now be sufficient to enable the fees to be reinstated into the account for payment.

In view of the delay that there has been in getting this matter resolved I am informed that the account has been lodged for taxation and a diet is awaited. I would therefore be to everyone's benefit if matters could be resolved quickly.

I do understand that is actually on holiday but I did speak to her prior to her departure and she advised that she would inform about the case and that she would be able to deal with matters. She also advised that she had spoken to about this and he also was aware of the situation and would be able to make a decision if required.

I trust that one of the aforementioned can deal with matters.

Yours faithfully

Thank you for your letter dated 22 August 2001.

To enable consideration to be given to this matter, it would be of assistance it you could provide copies of the court interlocutors for the peremptory hearings.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely

I refer to the above matter and to my telephone conversation with abatements to the agents fees.

regarding the proposed

As advised I do believe that the correct fee for peremptory hearings has been used. I would draw your attention to your Table of Fees and the relevant paragraph which states "to include preparation for and all work in connection with any hearing or debate other than on evidence". I cannot see how this does not cover the peremptory hearing. The said hearing is of great importance and basically decides whether a party can continue with their defence to the action.

As advised during our telephone conversation if you are not prepared to allow this fee then the account will need to be lodged for taxation. I would point out that this has already been discussed at other taxations although I would say not in a legal aid case but where this point has arisen and this is the fee that is allowed. You will of course appreciate that from the beginning of this year a new fee has actually been brought in to the Judicial Table to specifically cover this work.

Finally as you are aware I am actually going on holiday at the end of next week and it would be appreciated if you could let me know your position prior to this as obviously if matters are to go to taxation then I would like to get the ball rolling in order that a diet could be fixed as soon as possible after my return.

Yours faithfully

I refer to dur telephone conversation of today's date.

I note that as discussed you are going to advise Messrs Raeburn Hope to lodge the account in this case to the Auditor for taxation. There are no prescribed fees for interim hearings (other than interdict hearings) or peremptory diets under the Chapter II block fee.

I trust this clarifies matters and look forward to hearing from you.

Dear Sirs

ES/Account-Offer/49519

I refer to the above matter and to my recent telephone conversation with during which I advised that I was instructed by the agents to respond to the proposed abatements to the account.

RECEIVED

6 JUN 2001

As advised during our telephone conversation the fees that have been claimed here in re-pect of the interim hearing are in fact the debate fee which is the appropriate fee for work of this nature. The second fees that have been claimed in respect of the peremptory diet and again the debate fee and this has been discussed in the past is the appropriate fee as well for such work.

I trust that the abatements will now be withdrawn and the balance of the fees now paid to the solicitor.

In view of my involvement in matters I would appreciate if you could just drop me a line confirming that payment has been made to enable me to return the file and papers to my instructing agents.
